Carmel $478,000 School Bond Election June One

A new bond issue for the Carmel Unified School District will be presented for public approval in an election on Thursday, June 1, at the Sunset School. Meeting Tuesday night, the Carmel School Board announced that the former million dollar bond issue, defeated on February 28, has been cut to $478,000.

With the exception of one classroom for the music department, all plans for construction at the high school have been dropped from the new bond issue, the board said. It was felt that the most immediate need is for elementary school construction.

The $478,000 bond can be financed with a tax rate of 13 cents or less per $100 of assessed value, board members declared.

If the new bond issue is accepted at the polls, expectancy tables show that Carmel can anticipate that all elementary classrooms will be filled again by 1955, they warned, adding:

"Since it takes an average of 15 months for the steps from planning to completion of a school construction project, it means our district will probably have to face planning and authorizing in 1954 for more construction for elementary school purposes. It is hoped that other high school needs may be postponed until this time."

The School Board was careful to point out that members still feel that the controversial high school auditorium is a necessary unit of the school and that the million dollars called for in the last bond issue was required to complete the school plant.

But they have concluded that the last bond was defeated for two main reasons: 1. The auditorium was considered too much of a luxury item. 2. The million dollar amount called for was too large.

In line with this, the board has prepared the following revised program which it hopes the necessary two-thirds of the voters will approve:

BUDGET FIGURES

Carmel River School....$250,948.

Carmel Woods School (completion)....$170,602.

High School (one classroom).....$15,000.

Contingency (10 percent of construction costs for architects' fees, state checking and filing fees, tests, inspector's salary, miscellaneous).....$41,450.

TOTAL.....$478,000.

In other business, the School Board considered inter-district attendance problems, and produced the following statement of policy:

"Due to crowded conditions in elementary grades and threatened crowded conditions in high school grades, beginning immediately and until further notice, no new out-of-district students will be accepted in Carmel schools, with the following exceptions:

"1. Families who already have students attending Carmel schools and who, because of transportation convenience make a special request, may be allowed to have children in the same family enroll.

"2. Those students already enrolled in Carmel schools from out-of-district will be allowed to complete their schooling in Carmel through all grades.

"3. In case an exchange of students can be found by parents between districts, the board will look favorably upon such an exchange.

"4. Districts wishing to contract with Carmel for interdistrict attendance by paying tuition will be given every consideration.

"5. Families leaving our district to reside in another must move their children immediately to schools in the district of residence, except in case numbered paragraphs 3 or 4 above apply. Exceptions because of changes in residence during a current semester shall be left to the discretion of the School Board.

"The customary required interdistrict attendance agreement now in effect will be secured from each out-of-district student and state apportionment monies will be collected by the Carmel Unified School District.

Winner of the Pet Appeal Photo Contest of the Junior Humane Society, Monterey County SPCA, was this photograph of the pets of George Herzenberg, Jr., of Monterey, who won a gold cup. Another gold cup winner was John Morse, Jr., of Carmel, whose pet photo took second place. Other winners were Tony Martin, of Carmel, who won 10 theater passes; Joan Simpson, of Monterey, Carol Selbub, of Monterey, Lynn Campbell, of Carmel, and Dianne Miller, of Carmel, who were awarded theater passes and pet merchandise.

AAA STARTS TRAFFIC SURVEY IN CARMEL

A survey of the parking problem in Carmel's business section got underway Wednesday under the auspices of the American Automobile Association, according to Andy Martin, Carmel police commissioner. The survey is offered free to Carmel and is expected to last about 10 days.

Mr. Martin said the results of the survey will be used to help solve Carmel's critical parking problem.

Movie Actress Elizabeth Taylor and her husband, Conrad Hilton, Jr., married only last Saturday in Beverly Hills, were photographed near Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach, where they are spending their honeymoon. The handsome couple attracted plenty of attention this week just by walking down Carmel's Ocean Avenue. Mr. Hilton is teaching his bride to play golf and the pair are also doing some deep sea fishing at Stillwater Cove as well as a lot of sight-seeing. Having never been to the peninsula before, they are entranced with its beauty... and the peninsula returns the compliment to Mrs. Hilton.

Above photo shows the bitter end of an exciting time Monday at the truck entrance of the Carmel Post Office. Shop owners and postal employees spent a frustrating 15 minutes trying to get a parked car moved from where its owner left it: squarely in the driveway, blocking an outgoing truck. Since the auto was hemmed in, the truck just had to wait until the motorist arrived, which he did - at the same time the Carmel Police Department showed up. Polaroid One-Minute Photo.

plans for the June 4th restoration dedication fiesta and barbecue at Mission San Antonio de Padua, near Jolon, was held last Thursday when all of the various committees met at the site. Arrangements for music, entertainment, radio and motion picture talent, exhibits from other missions, barbecue installations and many other details essential to a large project of this nature were discussed and assignments were given to the many committee members representing the California Mission Trails Association and the Monterey County Citizens Committee.

William Jeffery, Sr., of Salinas, and Julius G. Trescony, of San Lucas, respective chairmen for the Mission Trails organization and the Monterey County citizens group, coordinated their planning and responsibilities with Ralph B. Wright and Benjamin M. Watson, secretary-manager and field secretary, respectively, of the California Mission Trails Association. Father Gregory Wooler, OFM, in charge of Mission San Antonio, played host to the committeemen and expressed himself as most pleased with the progress of the working schedule of both the restoration and the celebration details.

The final details of the formal program for June 4, which will be radio broadcast and participated in by Governor Earl Warren, Bishop Aloysius J. Willinger of the Monterey-Fresno Diocese, General Albert C. Wedemeyer and Joseph R. Knowland will be announced as soon as studio and radio commitments of Hollywood personalities can be cleared.

the newest and most advanced automatic transmission

STUDEBAKER Automatic Drive

No clutch pedal, of course!

But there's nothing new to learn. You just drive in the usual way - without any clutching, declutching or shifting gears. Marvelous for "new" drivers.

STUDEBAKER engineers once again have worked their magic on the mechanism of the modern automobile!

Together with Borg-Warner engineers they have perfected - and proudly present - America's newest and most advanced "no clutch - no gearshift" driving.

This revolutionary Studebaker Automatic Drive takes over much of the physical effort of driving a car.

It's a combination of torque converter and direct mechanical drive - brilliant triumph of nearly 15 years' research by the most exacting technicians in the automotive industry!

Try out Studebaker's new Automatic Drive without obligation. It's extra cost - but it's the finest investment that anybody ever made in motoring enjoyment.

You simply set this selector lever!

All you do is feed the gas. The new Studebaker Automatic Drive does the rest by "shifting for itself" - in traffic slow-downs and everywhere.

SELLING STOCK IN NEW PLAYHOUSE AT GOLDEN BOUGH SITE

Directors and advisory board members of the proposed Carmel Playhouse met Monday afternoon at the Pine Inn to discuss the sale of preferred stock in an enterprise which would see erection of a 500-600 seat movie and playhouse at the site of the Golden Bough Playhouse, Monte Verde between Eighth and Ninth, Carmel.

The playhouse, to be utilized for dramatic productions and for "quality" movies, has been revived by local persons who have formed a corporation to bring the unique "Golden Bough" atmosphere back to Carmel. If $50,000 worth of preferred stock is subscribed to by May 31, the playhouse will become a reality - managed by Edward Kuster, who saw two of his own theaters go up in flames.

Sale of preferred stock at $25 a share to raise $50,000 by the end of May is under the direction of Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte. At present, the board of directors of the corporation include Mr. Kuster, president; Hugh Comstock, vice president; Jules Selcer, secretary-treasurer;

Stanley Pedder, counsel; Remsen D. Bird, Jimmy Hatlo and Harold Nielsen.

It is estimated that the cost of construction and equipment of the new playhouse will be $112,500. To raise this sum the corporation has secured a permit from the State Corporation Commission to sell preferred shares of stock to the public at the par value of $25 a share. Details of the financial arrangements are available in a prospectus which may be secured by contacting Mrs. Clairmonte or Stanley Pedder.

A drawing of the Carmel Playhouse has been prepared by the Hugh Comstock office. It will be of post adobe construction in part and is expected to have the general appearance of the Golden Bough Playhouse, which burned to the ground just a year ago. Adequate fire protection is assured, if the new building is to be constructed, it was brought out at the meeting on Monday.

"We have been an entire year without the playhouse," Mrs. Clairmonte told the group of Carmelites. "Let's not be another year without it."

She explained that $7,250 has already been raised for the project. Checks with the subscription blanks will go into the Monterey County Trust & Savings Bank to be held in escrow until the necessary $50,000 is amassed. If this figure is not reached by May 31, the money will be refunded, she said.

The prospectus for the playhouse relates the aims of the corporation and states policies which would go into effect were the playhouse built. It will feature "adult entertainment" and weekly matinees of films for children. It will have "no double bills, no children under seven, no audience conversation and no popcorn, peanuts or candy." In addition to a selection of quality films, the theater will feature production of contemporary and classical stage plays.

Members of the advisory board of the new corporation include John Abernethy, Captain Archer Allen, Mrs. Mariquita Brey, Mrs. Glenn Clairmont, Neville M. Cramer, B. Franklin Dixon, Mrs. Clyde F. Dyke, Miss Dene Denny, Ted Fehring, Mrs. Martin Flavin, Frederick Godwin, Harrison Godwin, Dr. John Gratiot, Arne Halle, Dr. Bertha S. Heath, Dr. Friedy B. Heisler, General William H. EDITORIAL:::WE URGE ADOPTION OF SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

With the announcement that the Board of Trustees of the Carmel Unified School District will present another bond issue for public vote on June 1, The SPECTATOR again offers its support of the school construction program.

The School Board feels certain that the new figure of $478,000 will meet with the approval of the Carmel voting populace, especially since the high school auditorium has been dropped from the proposal.

Actually, the elementary school needs are the most pressing. Following is an analysis of those needs:

All classrooms at Sunset and Carmel Woods School are now in use. In 1951, Sunset will house grades 5 through 8 (if and when construction of new schools is completed). By moving grades kindergarten through 4 from Sunset to the new neighborhood schools, this will give Sunset four extra classrooms for future expansion.

In 1951 there should be 7 classes in the Carmel Woods School (if new construction is completed), leaving three spare classrooms for future expansion.

By 1951, there should be 7 classes in Carmel River School, leaving three spare rooms for expansion.

At least two of these spare rooms in neighborhood schools will go into use immediately should the legislature see fit to bring legislation already enacted into effect. (This refers to an act temporarily suspended providing for full day kindergarten classes instead of the half-day sessions now in effect in this one grade.)

By reference to the following table, it seems indicated that provision of three extra rooms in the proposed construction is economically sound, and is little enough leeway considering probable future classroom needs.

		Rooms
		School Available	Rooms in Use
1949-
50 Sunset	14		14
Woods	5		5
1950-
51 Sunset	14		15 (Libr. used as class-room)

1955-
56 S	13		13 "

A quick rundown of the above figures should be all that is needed to bring a yes vote on June 1.

PG&E MOSS LANDING PLANT STARTS OPERATION

The first of three giant generators of the new Moss Landing Steam Plant on Monterey Bay successfully completed its test runs last week and was placed in commercial operation by Pacific Gas and Electric Company, according to W. G. B. Euler, vice-president and general manager.

The unit added 134,000 horsepower to the electric power supply of the P. G. and E. network - a capacity greater by one-third than the installed capacity of the Bureau of Reclamation's recently completed Keswick Powerhouse.

When the second and third units are placed in service next spring, the $51,500,000 Moss Landing plant's capacity will be 402,000 horsepower, the largest of any single generating station on the P. G. and E. system.

Dr. Bruno Franck, psychologist, who arrived in the United States from Europe only five months ago, spoke before a group of invited persons recently at Los Laureles Lodge, Carmel Valley, on a new European analytical test method which reportedly makes it possible to shorten psychological and psycho-analytical treatments considerably. He expects to spend several months in the valley except for two days of the week when he will be busy in San Francisco. His last European lecture, on hypnosis, was given at the International Congress of Psychiatrists in Paris. Dr. Franck graduated as an M.D. from University of Berlin. He was for some years the pupil and assistant of the famous Professor E. Kretschmer and has worked as a psychologist in Vienna and Rome.

nos petits secrets By Janine

Once more and with much mystery the French couturiers have created their summer "collections." The houses were busy everywhere and, the last days before the show, everybody was anxious and nervous, from the humblest employee to the "master." Would everything be ready in time? Were all the invitations sent? Why wasn't Suzy, the model, on hand? - But the "collection" is shown, and the lucky women who were invited return home with dreams in their eyes and projects in their minds. This summer collection gives them a lot to think about.

We are going to wear coats this summer, but they will be more like dusters. Straight and full and as short as the dresses, so short that they are sometimes even three-quarter length. They are worn with nonchalance, often showing the dresses, protecting without hiding them. The sleeves, if any, are elbow length. They turn back, puff or flare, in fact, the sleeves of themselves indicate the new silhouette. They are made mostly of shantung, linen or very thin wool. DIOR adds a coat to a sleeveless dress; JACQUES FATH lines one of his coats with the same material as the dress worn with it.

The ever popular suit shows a definite tendency toward classical lines again. The jackets are soft over the hips. The waistlines are longer and lower in the back. The long lapels are quite open and nearly always edged with braid. Skirts are straight and narrow but provided with a pleat or slit for walking ease. Check materials (DIOR) and the shepherd's check (JACQUES FATH), are in great favor. Above all, remember that the jackets are loose fitting over the bust and open over a vest or blouse of contrasting color.

Special attention is now being paid to accessories ... an ascot tie, a man's vest, are most important. With your suit this season you will wear a wide brimmed hat and carry with you, no matter how sunny the weather, an umbrella, either white or of bright colors. The favorite flower for your lapel will be a carnation.

Wanting women to feel young and optimistic, the couturiers suggest the choice of bright and new colors - jonquil yellow, vermilion red, nasturtium red, orange, salmon pink, and all the shades of mauve. But white, too, is always smart, if used with another color.

Words of the Wise

Let us be of good cheer, however, remembering that the misfortunes hardest to bear are those which never come.

IN MAY 16 CONCERT

Lorell McCann

Hulki Saner

Ronald Panton

At the last concert of the current season, on May 16 in Sunset Auditorium, the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra really comes into its own. Beside giving a program that ranges 150 years from Beethoven to modern composers, there will be presented two works by members of the orchestra, and an operatic aria will be sung by a third member of our ensemble.

The most impressive of these compositions is by Lorell McCann. Well known on the peninsula as a music educator and conductor, he is bringing out a tone poem he wrote in 1936, which was first played two years later. In his own words: "The setting for this work may be in the quiet of one's own home at the close of a busy day. Events of the past, then dreams of things yet to come, pass in review. Moods which are common to all of us are expressed in this work."

McCann is well qualified by training and experience for composition. He is a graduate of the New England Conservatory and the Pittsburgh Institute of Music, has held important teaching posts at Ventura College, at the Salinas High School and at Hartnell, where he heads the music department. His compositions cover a wide field - violin solos and songs, chamber music, string orchestra, violin concertos and full orchestra.

But there is another composer in the orchestra who is less well known - Ronald Panton, now playing in the French horn section. There will be a premier of his Air for English Horn and Orchestra, a short melodious number which embodies a gay folk-dance tune suggestive of the gigue that Haydn was so fond of writing. Since the orchestra went to some expense to secure our French horn to round out the woodwind section, it is fortunate that Panton has brought out a number that uses that instrument to good advantage.

Panton is a radio engineer who has gotten both music and technical training at the University of California. The trumpet is his choice instrument, having played this part in the Oakland and Santa Barbara Symphony Orchestras, but he is also skilled in the French horn, saxophone, piano and organ, beside being proficient in orchestration.

The soloist for the concert is Hulki Saner, currently an instructor in Turkish at the Army Language School, Presidio of Monterey. He will sing an aria from Verdi's Traviata and a Turkish Lullaby that has been scored by McCann. The beauty and simplicity of the melody appealed to McCann and, in studying it, he visualized the counter-melodies and color which he later developed in the harp, woodwinds and string sections.

Although Saner's studies in Istanbul were mainly in chemical engineering, his interest in Western music led him to setting up an orchestra, giving concerts, and having a program on the Turkish radio. He has been in the United States for three years, two of which saw him in our orchestra at the same time that he was studying voice with Noel Sullivan and Arthur Alexander.

Additional numbers on the next concert are a piece by Granados, the Beethoven First Symphony and Jamaican Rhumba under Anderson's lead. McCann conducts through the vocal numbers as well as a suite by the English composer Eric Coates. Tickets are procurable at Abinante Music Stores in Carmel and Monterey and from the box-office on concert night.

BOILING BLOOD AND THRIVING ULCERS DEPARTMENT:

If there is anything more irritating than trying to find a parking place at the Carmel Post Office, you will have to look for it elsewhere than Carmel. People waiting for empty stalls on Dolores Street have to stare through the rear windows of cars already parked and contemplate the napes-of-necks of a lot of fatheads who insist on reading their mail pronto, right now, right in front of the P.O. Maybe the police ought to start handing out tickets to those people who are jeopardizing the mental health of our automotive populace...

Twenty-two officers of the Army Language School in Monterey were planning to go deep sea fishing on Saturday, but they came a cropper when the lady fisherman (I think it was the famous Beverly) turned them down at the last minute. The water was choppy, she explained, and soldiers don't make good sailors. Colonel Brown and his party went fishing off the rocks, catching only 12 fish, but the lieutenants and the sergeants went to Moss Landing. Their count was about 70 fish...

The recent SPECTATOR story of the brush Sue Grimsley's husband-to-be had with the FBI, because of the incriminating letter she sent him re the great Brinks robbery, was reprinted in full in a Mason City, Iowa, daily...

Seems like Carmel's Harry Dixon makes this column every week, but then things are happening to him that deserve attention. Latest word is that his new book, Something For Nothing, has been bought by Warner Brothers. This doesn't exactly make our book reviewer unhappy, since he predicted that the movies would latch onto the book...

Understand Carmel Police Officer Earl Wermuth and Charlie Childers, ex-Carmel councilman, are involved in a mild hassel about a red nightgown. It's all in fun, but this writer ain't sticking his neck out. Ask them about it...

Local artists and craftsmen who displayed their work at the San Juan Bautista Arts and Crafts Show last weekend included Doris Ormsby, of Carmel, and J. R. Alston, of Pacific Grove...

PENINSULA COMMUNITY HOSPITAL PURCHASES ANNEX IN CARMEL

The Peninsula Community Hospital, Ltd., has completed negotiations for purchase of the Convalescent Annex on Santa Fe and Camino Del Monte in Carmel from Stanford University, it was made known this week by Thomas W. Norris, president of the board of directors.

Because funds for expansion of the hospital proper were not made available by the state and federal authorities, the annex was purchased from Grace Deere Velle Foundation funds. It is the present intention to remodel the building and make it into the Medical Department at a later date, Mr. Norris said.

The hospital, fully approved by the American College of Surgeons, Department of Hospital Standardization, is operated on a non-profit basis.

Members of the board of directors include Mrs. R. R. Wallace, Pebble Beach, George H. Schuyler, Pacific Grove, John E. Abernethy, A. W. Wheldon, W. H. Satchell and Captain Archer M. R. Allen, USN (ret.), all of Carmel.

COLONEL MACK WANTS OVERHANGING SIGNS REPLACED FOR MONTEREY STORES

Speculation as to whether a delegation of Monterey businessmen would appear at next week's City Council meeting brought attention to a matter which has been all but forgotten in the past four years: The removal of overhanging electric signs in Monterey.

Demanding a return to the signs, Colonel Harold Mack, of the Monterey Planning Commission, which met Friday, said, "I can't find the stores any more." E. H. Traxler, former president of the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce, thought that Mack would find considerable support of his move, but J. R. Perry pointed out the fact that Carmel, where Mack has been a resident, is very strict in regulation of signs.

"I can't help that," replied Mack.

The planners took no formal action, but its discussion caused several conferences this week. Businessmen on Monterey's side streets are especially anxious to see a return to overhanging signs. Many still have their signs in storage, waiting for "the day."

Whether the council would ever consider letting the signs go up again is another matter. Tourists have complimented the city on its improved appearance without the signs.

On the other hand, it IS harder to find the stores, many people feel.

MONTEREY SEWAGE BOND COMMITTEE HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The Sewage Bond Committee appointed by Monterey Mayor Leslie K. Smith held its kickoff meeting yesterday at the San Carlos Hotel, Monterey.

William Stahl, chairman, introduced county workers and a large committee was named to acquaint Monterey voters with the proposed $55,000 bond issue in the June 6 primaries.

The issue, which has been approved by the State Board of Health, would locate a new sewage plant near the Navy General Line School. To date, the issue does not appear to be controversial.

Seaside voters earlier approved a bond issue in that district.

ROAD TO SCOUTS' CAMP ON LITTLE SUR TO BE COMPLETED SOON

Road to the Monterey Bay Area Boy Scout council's new camp on the north fork of the Little Sur is now being constructed and will be finished within a few weeks, according to Walter Tavernetti, chairman of the council's camp development committee. The road will wind through eight miles of the wildest terrain in Monterey County and, when completed, will transport scouts and building materials to the 1,370 acre scout campsite which the council acquired in September, 1948, through a $20,000 gift from the William Randolph Hearst Foundation, Inc.

The road is the first part of a proposed $60,000 program designed to equip the most modern Boy Scout camp possible for use by scouts from the counties of Monterey, San Benito and Santa Cruz.

Starting in the Pale Colorado canyon, the road is being carved along the steep sides of Turner creek.

We've cut our food budget amazingly with our new electric refrigerator

Now we can buy ahead, save trips to the store, and have better meals... thanks to our new electric refrigerator with its generous frozen-food section and storage space for fruits and vegetables. There's more room for tall bottles, too... and lots more ice cubes. Yet, with all this increased space inside, the new electric refrigerator requires no extra room in the kitchen. It's thrifty to operate, too... only a few pennies a day with P. G. and E's low electric power rates... and it protects foods at a perfect temperature 24 hours a day.

Plan to see your electrical appliance dealer soon. Have the family look at the new models with you. The daily economies you'll enjoy will help pay the cost of owning a sparkling, new electric refrigerator.

CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB FLOWER SHOW A COMPLETE SUCCESS

Congratulations were received by Mrs. Helen Clark Cranston and her committees for their work in the Carmel Woman's Club Flower Show held at the Clubhouse at the weekend.

The auditorium was filled with exhibits. Of these the outstanding one was one of tropical plants and leis flown from Waialua, Oahu, Hawaii, by United Air Lines through David Prince, of Morse-Gleason Travel Agency, and arranged by Mr. and Mrs. William Eklund, of Carmel.

Separate blooms were packed in test tubes. Boxes of flowers were shipped by plane scheduled to arrive Friday in time for the Eklunds to set up the exhibit. Lotus buds were picked ready to open Sunday when the Hibiscus arrived. Of these shipments, Mrs. Eklund created an arrangement of wood roses combined with briquets; displays of wild orchids, Heliconia Ginger with red and pink shaded Ti leaves; arthuriums, white Plumerias, Croton, tree flower, Brassia Flower, Traveler's Palm Flower, Crown Flower and Coconut Flower. A banana sheaf with red Ti leaves was much admired. A bowl of Spider lilies, a vase of Bird of Paradise, and one of Heliconia Ginger were displayed on Lauhala mats with a background of Hawaiian screens and fish nets. Draped on the screens and spread on the table were some fifteen leis—the gift of Mrs. Eklund. Three of these were worn by members of the club: Mrs. Barbara Murphy, acting president, Mrs. Helen Clark Cranston, garden chairman and Mrs. Eklund.

An artist's dream was a display donated by the Hand Craft Cottage, of Carmel. Miniatures were combined with figurines and flowers arranged by Alberta Dreyer. The flowers were donated by Mrs. Noel T. Arnold, of Pebble Beach.

Orchids grown in Carmel at Forest and Oak Knoll by W. K. Skowran were exhibited by him on an orchid tree. An expert in landscaping, Mr. Skowran selected his orchids from all parts of the world and grows them scientifically.

An outdoor living room was built on the stage of the clubhouse by Mrs. Barbara Murphy and Miss Catherine Knudsen. The foreground of the stage was banked with azaleas—red, white, pink and variegated—rhododendrons, snowballs, ferns, aralias, syringa, hydrangeas and Leptospermum (Australian tea tree)—all accented by a silver ball sun dial. This display was arranged by C. S. Turner, of the Oak Grove Nursery.

Interest was centered on the Bride's Table designed and donated by Mrs. Paul McKinstry, of the Carmel Grocery. Arched bows, covered with fluted white satin and trimmed with Ti blossoms, topped a table covered with a banquet cloth of hand-embroidered linen with embroidered filet lace and inset motifs. This cloth was brought from the Philippines by Mrs. Helen Clark Cranston. The table setting was carried out in gold and white with white candles in gold candle sticks with crystal prisms; gold and white Haviland tureens loaned by Mrs. Elmer Bingham; a bouquet of white flowers; and a three-layer bride's cake made by the Wishart Bakery and decorated by Mrs. McKinstry with a heart-shaped canopy of gold bells. Three larger gold bells with white ribbon bows hung at the crossing of the bows. Near the cake was a gold-handled sword drawn beside its scabbard.

A large shadow box by Mrs. Charles De Vault filled a prominent place near a window. Shadows reflected from a large bouquet of Japanese Iris artistically arranged in a bowl of silk lacquer. A Japanese obi of antique brocaded bronze silk was draped beside the flowers.

Vases of specimen roses were displayed by Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Patee, of Pebble Beach, Mrs. William C. Bogen of the Monterey Peninsula Club, Mrs. W. H. Hargrave, Mrs. Alton Walker and Mrs. A. B. Currie. An elephant statue from England, loaned by Mrs. Alice M. Cooksley, carried a bouquet. A specimen of Juniper wood named "Memento Mor" with a single white Calla was exhibited by Mrs. Eugenia Gooden; lilacs and roses, Mrs. Elmer Bingham; Solomon's Seal, Mrs. W. J. Skowran; "Victor Emanuel" gardenias, Mrs. Douglas Martz; Meyer lemon, Mrs. D. W. Hand.

A shadow box of red Anthuriums against a black background was shown by Shaffer's Tropical Gardens, of Santa Cruz; camellias by Mrs. Paul H. Low; tulips and roses, Mrs. Douglas Martz; a tureen of lilacs and stocks, Mrs. J. E. Buffington, Sr.; Weigela, Gypsy Coulter; Callas and various glass containers were displayed by the Spencer House of Cards, Carmel; succulents in glass, Mrs. Salong L. Johnmet; roses, Mrs. Alta Jensen.

In the center of the hall, tables were set as follows: Luncheon table by Mrs. E. H. Tickle, featuring a centerpiece, Vaseline Glass flower holder from England, Chinese dishes, mats and napkins set off by polished oyster shells, conch-shell ornaments with a Siamese cat figurine.

A dinner table by Mrs. Benjamin Johnson was ornamented with ceramics by Blanche Casey. An informal Sunday night supper table was set with pottery and mats by Mrs. Charles Berkey. A child's party table, done by Mrs. Alton Walker, was gay with gumdrop trees and candy favors.

Outdoors, in the patio, was a shrine by Mrs. Fenton Grigsby. A white, ceramic madonna stood against a blue background. White Arbutom flowers and bronze beech leaves filled the background.

Cut flowers, including iris, roses and corsages, were sold by Mrs. C. Gilbert Campbell. Credit is given Mrs. William Gargiulo for donating to this table a crate of lettuce.

Potted plants were in charge of Mrs. Victor McCrea, assisted by Mrs. Eleanor Lee, Mrs. John W. King, Mrs. Malcolm Woods, Mrs. W. C. Peterson, Mrs. J. C. Handley and Mrs. Hanley Allen. In the patio were exhibits of Holland Tulips by Peter Valinga and varied plants from the Hyde Nursery of Watsonville.

The adjoining tea room was crowded both days with luncheon guests. Mrs. Verne Skillman, in charge of the tea room, was assisted by Mrs. Charles Berkey, Mrs. Ella C. Harris, Mrs. C. U. Fontenau, Mrs. F. E. Naftzger, Mrs. H. Douglas Martz, Mrs. Hugo Bedau and Miss Catherine Knudsen. All members of the club donated and helped serve home-cooked food and coffee. Patio decorations were in charge of Miss Amy Campbell, assisted by Miss Kay Knudsen, Mrs. Robert E. Peck and Mrs. E. Bingham. Mrs. Rhea Diveley was responsible for posters; Mrs. Nora Law for publicity. Mrs. L. C. Miller and Miss Amy Comings took care of tickets.

NOTED MILITARY GUESTS
AT ARMED FORCES
DAY LUNCHEON MAY 20

Eight hundred tickets to the Armed Forces Day luncheon, to be held in the large dining room at the U.S. Naval School, Monterey, Saturday, May 20, at noon, were distributed to chambers of commerce of Monterey, Pacific Grove, Seaside, Salinas and Watsonville, and the Businessmen's Association of Carmel, last week, for sale to residents of those communities through their service clubs and the local chambers of commerce.

The luncheon tickets will be sold for $1.50 each and are available to both men and ladies. Main speaker for this part of the Armed Forces Day program will be Maj.
Gen. John R. Deane, USA (Ret.),
former head of the US Military Mission in Moscow. After his tour of duty in Russia from 1943 to 1945
General Deane wrote the book,
"The Strange Alliance," on his Moscow experiences and Russian-American relations during the final stages of the war.

Details and planning for the affair are being worked out by a committee at the Naval School, Monterey. The program will be announced later and, tentatively, is scheduled to include music and appropriate decorations in the dining room. The U.S. Naval School will be open all day Saturday, May 20, for public visiting, in addition to the luncheon. Exhibits from each academic department of the school will be displayed throughout the main floor and the public will be invited to inspect their naval establishment in Monterey.

Prominent guests who have been invited to attend the Armed Forces Day luncheon include: Army: Lt.
Gen. A. C. Wedemeyer, Sixth Army commander; Charles R. Richardson, president, Peninsula Reserve Officers' Association; Col. E. A.
Everitt, commanding officer, Camp
Cooke, Calif.; Col. and Mrs. William E. Donegan USA (Ret.).

Navy guests are: Vice Admiral George D. Murray, commander, Western Sea Frontier; Rear Admiral B.
J. Rodgers, commandant, Twelfth
Naval District; Rear Admiral F. I.
Entwistle, deputy commander,
Western Sea Frontier; Rear Admiral C. L. Green, chief of staff and aide to the commander, Western Sea Frontier; Admiral R. A. Spru-ance, USN (Ret.); Admiral R. K.
Turner USN (Ret.); Lt. John F.
Butler, USN, commanding officer,
LST 845. Air Force guests: Maj.
Gen. John E. Upston, USAF, commanding general, 4th Air Force,
Hamilton Field; Maj. Gen. Junius
W. Jones, USAF, commanding general, Sacramento Air Materiel Area, McClellan Air Force Base.

ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S

WHO IS IT?

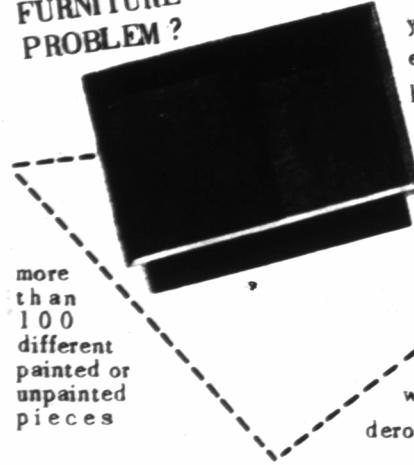

The Reverend Alfred B. Seccombe, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Carmel, is featured in this week's "Who Is It?" A war veteran and a football player in college, Reverend Mr. Seccombe is active in many Carmel groups, belonging to Kiwanis and the Red Cross and chairman of the Youth Committee of the Community Chest. He is also active in UNESCO. Born in 1912 in Beverly, Mass., he attended prep school at Landon School in Washington, D.C. and graduated from the University of Virginia with a BS in 1936. Mr. Seccombe went on to attend the Virginia Theological Seminary for his BD degree, which he received in 1939. Following a brief period as assistant of a church at University of Virginia, he became Episcopal chaplain at Yale University, where he took over for two years as freshman line coach of the Yale football team. He had held the same job at his alma mater and, even now, helps out the Carmel High School coach. In 1943, Reverend Mr. Seccombe became a navy chaplain, serving through the war in the Solomon Islands, Australia and California. He became the rector at All Saints' Church after studying in England at St. Augustine College, Canterbury, and Wescott House, Cambridge. Married in 1940 to Elizabeth Clagett Welbourn, of Leesburg, Va., he is the father of three: Margaret, 8, Elizabeth, 4, and William, 2. The Seccombes live on the Hatton Fields Mesa in a rambling house that overlooks the entrance to Carmel Valley.

FILMS FROM DISTANT NATIONS
FEATURED IN NORBERG SERIES

Films from remote parts of the world, furnished by foreign governments, will be shown in this area, starting May 22, as part of the "Neighbors Abroad" programs sponsored by Norberg Travel Service here. All the motion pictures to be shown are sound films, with English narration, and many of them are in color. Foreign government representatives also will participate in the "Neighbors Abroad" series, speaking before club and school audiences.

First to arrive will be Pierre Lenail, French vice consul in San Francisco, who will be here Friday, May 19. He will speak at Carmel High School during the afternoon of that day.

Evening showings of the films, open to the public and free of charge, have been arranged at the following locations on the dates indicated: Central service club, Fort Ord, May 22; student union, Monterey College, May 23; high school auditorium, Salinas, May 24; solarium, Holman's Department Store, Pacific Grove, May 25; and auditorium, Sunset School, Carmel, May 26. Different films will be presented at each of these showings.

SUPPORTS EARLY HEARING FOR BRAMBLETT BILL

Support for early hearing of Congressman E. K. Bramblett's Home Buyer's Tax Exemption Bill came today from a ranking member of the House Ways and Means Committee, Congressman Roy O. Woodruff, of Michigan.

Woodruff, an expert on tax matters is also a member of the Joint Senate and House Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, which will also probably consider the bill.

Woodruff told Bramblett that is "sound economically and would provide a definite stimulus to business, as well as an aid to housing for people in the middle and lower income brackets."
